Title: Concerning Kronos

Author: Former Lord Paine
-----

In response to the declaration of 'King'
Kronos:
I once again find myself questioning the government of Britannia, all because of the rash actions of Kronos, a power hungry dictator who does not appear to have the slightest
concern for this land,
otherwise he would not disturb it so with his seizure of the crown. This unilateral declaration has turned friends against each other, and has in fact lessened his support, as many that had supported him as Govener-Regent are outraged at his presumption that he can just declare himself king. Indeed, he has little claim to the throne, or else he would have called for a counsel of nobles to decide on who would be king, instead of just unilaterally
assuming the crown.
However, with this declaration he could easily plunge all of Sosaria into total chaos! The fact that he did, however,
suggests that he is perhaps not fit to rule at all, and that he is more interested in his own personal power than in our interests. In any event, it is not for him alone to decide who, if anyone, should be king, and I feel that he has greatly overstepped his authority in this matter. Therefore, I call for an immediate investigation into Kronos's worthiness to govern us and our land.

Signed,
The Former Lord Paine
